Dear friends,

As I write this message for our newsletter, the special period of Lent is already upon us. We are also still experiencing the occasional frost and sharpness of winter. However, the promise that spring heralds is already evident in our gardens, fields and hedgerows. Nature is awakening all around us. In a farming community, we are busy lambing, ploughing and sowing as the weather changes. Businesses of every kind turn their attention to financial review and forward planning.

So too for us, our Christian faith merits its own stewardship. Personal focus in our faith can give us the opportunity, as a pilgrim in our journey through life, to follow Christ more keenly in our preparation for Easter. Our bishop Gregory encourages us to a life that is "gifted and graced from God". He recommends we make more room for God in our daily lives as well as in our ministry to others. He also urges us, through prayer and contemplation, to consider how we may progress Christ's Gospel of love and discipleship.

Our Deanery, and our own group of parishes, face an interesting time of challenge as we plan for the future and how we may grow in mission, outreach and involvement. As we contemplate the sure and certain hope of eternal life promised through Christ's death and glorious resurrection, may we embrace the opportunity of encouraging others to journey with us in our pilgrimage of faith. Surely our focus should include youth and adults in all we attempt in worship and liturgy together, as well as in community life as the wider family of God. We should not ask God what He can do for us, but rather what we can do for Him in Christ's name.
As Jesus exhorted his disciples at the start of his ministry “follow me", may we all do so with joy and renewed vigour.

Tangnefedd a bendith,
Peace and blessing upon us.

Christian Aid Week 12 to 18 May

Bite Back at Hunger

Today around 870 million people are desperate for food. One in eight people in the world will go to bed hungry tonight and every night. This is a scandal – especially when you think of all the food wasted every day in rich countries like ours. Christian Aid is urging us to Bite Back at Hunger this year to help communities in the developing world not only to survive but to thrive, with enough food to eat, not just today, but tomorrow.

Rhiannon Lewis, Llansilin's local organiser, will be calling her committee together at the end of the month to arrange the events for this year's Christian Aid week here. Please look out for posters and, as you have always done, support her and Christian Aid in this worthy cause.

Second World War tragedy is commemorated at Bwlch Y Rhiw

In the early hours of 26 January 1943, a Wellington bomber on a training mission from RAF Harwell developed a technical fault and crashed on Bwlch Y Rhiw farmhouse two miles from the village of Llansilin.

All five aircrew: Sgt C Edwards, Sgt L C Muston, Sgt G G Otley, Sgt B L Parker and Sgt J S Todd were killed. The occupants of the house, Edwin and Annie Jane Williams were also killed, but their son, Dan and daughter Nancy survived as did a Land Girl who was staying at the house. Nancy and the Land Girl were trapped by the fire which followed the collision and very bravely rescued by Dan, who suffered serious injuries during the rescue.

Exactly 70 years later, a small group gathered at Bwlch Y Rhiw to mark the anniversary and to lay a wreath beneath the plaque commemorating the event on the side of the house. A short service was conducted by Llansilin's reader, Leigh Northcott Hammond who spoke of the sacrifice made, not only by service personnel but also by the civilians inevitably caught up in conflict.

The wreath was laid by Llew Ellis, who in 1943 had been one of the closest neighbours of the Williams family and who had been one of the first on the scene after the accident. It was no ordinary wreath, either. It is a new design created by the Oswestry branch of the Royal British Legion which will be used nationwide in November and this was its first deployment.

Among those attending was Nancy Povey, née Williams, one of the survivors of the crash. Aged ten at the time, Mrs Povey still has stark memories of that night and of her terror being carried down a ladder to safety by her older brother Dan.

Brother and sister Andrew Matthews and Gill Holbrook also had a harrowing tale to tell. Their mother, Elizabeth, had been engaged to Sgt John Todd and their wedding had been planned for early February 1943 – just days after he died in the crash.

Graham Moss, who with his wife Lynnette is the current owner of Bwlch Y Rhiw said: "Lynnette and I have lived here for nearly 15 years and we consider it to be, in many ways, a privilege.

"A privilege, not only in terms of the location, the view, the community, the wonderful family times we have enjoyed here…but also because the house is a tangible reminder of the terrible events of 70 years ago that we are meeting to remember this morning. I would like to thank all of you for being here this morning. For some of you who remember the accident, I know it is a very poignant and painful memory."

Shoppers boost the Over 60s

Co-operative members in the area have helped Llansilin Over 60s Club to fund transport and seasonal parties with a donation of £1,650.

The group received the cash boost from the Co-operative's Community Fund, a pot of money accumulated by member customers opting to donate all or part of their annual dividend to good causes in the area. The money is distributed by the Co-operative's local area committees.

Sarah James, from Llansilin Over 60s Club, said: "Funding is becoming ever harder to secure, therefore we were delighted to hear that we were successful in securing this grant from the Co-operative. The cash has made a huge difference to our group, and it means all the more knowing that the money has been donated by local people."

Vaughan Rigby, of the North Wales Area Committee, said; "Supporting local communities has been an inherent part of the Co-operative's values and principles since the very beginning of the co-operative movement."

News from Bro Cynllaith

We began this Spring Term by welcoming three new pupils into school; Charlie Clarke and Jack Thompson started our Foundation Class and Amanda Lane joined us in Year 2.

Enjoying our breakfast!

Our Breakfast Club is going extremely well and the children really enjoyed celebrating Farmhouse Breakfast Week with tasty breakfasts such as scrambled egg on toast and bacon butties - yum yum!!

A number of children are taking the opportunity to receive guitar and drum tuition from qualified teachers who come into school each week to provide these lessons.

The school has successfully applied for a £200 grant to help mark National Science and Engineering Week and we will all be off to Techniquest in Wrexham at the end of March to enjoy a science themed day.

Is there anyone out there who would be willing to help the school set up a new website? Our current one is a Powys County Council model and not very user-friendly; any help would be very much appreciated as the website is often the first contact any potential new parent has with a school and therefore vitally important. Please contact Rhian or Ann on 791365 if you are able to help. We are still collecting used postage stamps, old ink cartridges and Sainsbury vouchers.

See the lost glories of Glyndwr's Sycharth through an artist's eyes

Anyone who visits the Cynllaith valley cannot fail to be struck by its beauty. Those lucky enough to live here know that it is a very special place. Local artist, Mary Cunnah has lived near Llansilin for 11 years; and during this time has drawn inspiration for her creativity, from both the landscape and its history.

From her house, Pen y Bryn, she can see the remains of the motte and bailey of Sycharth, the main residence of Owain Glyndwr, the last 'true' Prince of Wales. She has often wondered what it would have been like in its heyday, before it was sacked in 1403. Obviously the hills haven't changed, but the vegetation, animals and man-made features have.

Some indication of the Cynllaith valley in the 14th century can be gleaned from the famous poem about Sycharth by Iolo Goch in which he describes it as a veritable Garden of Eden - fish ponds, rabbit warrens, a dovecote as well as orchards, vineyards and fertile fields. Mary has used this, and her artistic imagination, to produce images to try and convey just what it was like to live here in those far-off days.

Over the last few years she has produced oil paintings, etchings and collagraph prints to covey her ideas. These will be shown in the Llansilin Parish Rooms on weekends 15-16, 23-24 June and Wednesday 19 June. This will be part of the Borderland Visual Arts (BVA) Open Studios weekends, when Mary will be sharing the space with another local artist, Margaret Charman.

LLANSILIN COMMUNITY COUNCIL

Can you help to care for the village footpaths?

Powys countryside services have been in touch to ask if the council can help to find volunteers to regularly walk certain paths around the village, keeping an eye on their condition and carrying out a few minor jobs as needed. So come on, let's see if we can recruit a few people.

You don't need to walk great distances or take on demanding physical tasks, just some regular monitoring and keeping the paths in a usable condition. You can report the larger jobs to the countryside services. If you are interested contact Mark Chapman in the first instance on 01691 700353 or mark.chapman@powys.gov.uk

Following a review of its finances the council is pleased to report that it is able to continue to support the Memorial Hall with an annual revenue grant for 2013/14. It will also continue its funding this year to support the upkeep and maintenance of St Silin's churchyard, and surrounding smaller churchyards.

In times of cuts and financial difficulties the council has agreed not to increase the precept for 2013/14 and has requested a budget matched to 2011/12 financial year.

It was noted and a letter of thanks sent to the highways department in January to recognise all the hard work carried out on the ditches and roadsides before Christmas to ensure that our roads could cope with the winter weather and rainfall. I think we just about managed - but I do appreciate that further road surveys and reporting need to be collated after the winter to assess snow damage and other deterioration.

The next Community Council meeting date is 14 May at 7.30pm in The Institute. Please feel free to use the postbox at Tynllan to drop off any correspondence for the clerk, or call her on 791692.

CHAPEL NEWS

Gweinidogaeth Bro

Mae cyfnod y Nadolig yn teimlo'n bell yn ôl erbyn hyn, ond cofiwn ddechrau'r Adfent cafwyd Gymanfa Garolau hwyliog iawn eto eleni dan aeweinyddiaeth Nia Turner. Cafwyd un gwasanaeth Nadoligaidd dan ofal y merched wedi ei drefnu gan Iola Evans, ac yna ar y Sul cyn y Nadolig cafwyd gwasanaeth y plant bach wedi ei drefnu gan Gwenan Thomas, eu hathrawes Ysgol Sul. Ar ddiwedd y gwasanaeth cafwyd bwyd bys a bawd wedi ei baratoi gan y merched, hefyd rhanwyd anrhegion i'r plant.

Yr ieuenctid oedd yng ngofal gwasanaeth ddechrau'r flwyddyn a drefnwyd gan Ioa Evans.

Oherwydd y tywydd,un cyfarfod o'r Gymdeithas Ddiwylliadol sydd wedi bod eleni ac ar y noson, yn anffodus doedd Huw Nant ddim yn ddigon da i roi ail ran o'i sgwrs am gymeriadau Rhiwlas, ond fe ddaeth Goronwy ac Awel Bwlchydongau i'r adwy gan roi hanes eu taith yn dilyn ôl troed Mari Jones, Llanfihangel y Pennant, yn cerdded i'r Bala i brynu Beibl gan Thomas Charles. Noson dda iawn yn wir ac edrychwn ymlaen i glywed Huw rhywbryd eto.

Tristwch I bawb yn yr ardal oedd clywed am farwolaeth John Ellis. Mab melinydd Y Felin Newydd oedd John ac yn frawd I Llywelyn (Llew). Roedd yn ddarllenwr brwd ac yn du hwnt o wybodus. Hoffai fynd i'r Alban am ei wyliau ac wrth gerdded y Llan byddai bob amser yn gwisgo bere ddu. Anfonwn ein cydymdeimlad cywir at Llew ac Edith Ellis.

Christmas seems a long way away but we remember the Gymanfa Garolau we had at the beginning of Advent. Nia Turner was the conductor and she led the singing in a very homely way. One Christmas service was led by the ladies which was organised by Iola Evans. The Sunday before Christmas the young children took the service which was organised by Gwenan Thomas, their Sunday school teacher. At the end of the service presents were given out to the children and then a finger buffet was enjoyed by all.

The New Year service was led by the young people which again was organised by Iola Evans.

For our only meeting this year of the Gymdeithas Ddiwylliadol, Huw Nant, unfortunately due to ill health, was unable to give his talk "Rhiwlas Characters Part 2", but at the last minute Goronwy and Awel Bwlchydongau filled the gap by giving a talk and slide show on their walk following the footsteps of Mari Jones from Llanfihangel y Pennant to Bala (26 miles) to purchase her bible from Thomas Charles.

A most interesting evening and we shall look forward to hear Huw's talk another time.

It was with sadness that we heard about the passing of John Ellis. He was the miller's son at Y Felin Newydd and a brother to Llywelyn (Llew). He was an avid reader and a master at general knowledge. Every year he enjoyed going to Scotland for his holidays and as he walked the village he always wore a black beret. We send Llew and Edith Ellis our sincere condolences.

Band raises money for play group

Llansilin welcomed the New Rope String Band to the village hall in December as a fund raising event for the Cylch Meithin play group.
The atmosphere was electric at the sell-out event, the New Rope String Band are amazingly talented and extremely funny.

Cylch Meithrin would like to thank the band and all those involved for their help and support and would also like to thank all who attended the evening for their generosity which raised £700 for the play group.

Cylch Meithrin runs in the village hall on a Monday and Friday mornings from 8.45 to 11.15. It costs £5 per session, including a snack, and is for children aged from two to school age. If you would like your child to attend please feel free to come along to a session or telephone the group leader Linda on 791639.

Preparing for Easter at St Silin's

Owing to the Joint Spring Clean falling on Easter Saturday it has been decided to give that extra clean on Saturday 23 March from 10.00am onwards
There will be coffee, tea and biscuits for everybody. Please contact Esther on 791647 for more details.

Easter flowers

As custom over many years members of the congregation and friends have kindly given donations towards lilies for the altar and flowers for decorating the church.
If you would like to contribute please contact Esther. Everybody is welcome to come and decorate or perhaps you would prefer to bring your own arrangement and place it in an area of your choice.

We shall be decorating after the service on Good Friday from 3pm-5pm and Saturday 30 March from 9.00am to 5.00pm.

St Silin's is committed to supporting the principles of Fair Trade and will be supplying Fairtrade tea and coffee, plus any other Fairtrade products such as fruit (where there is no other locally sourced alternative) at church events.

The Christian Aid ecumenical service will be held on Sunday 12 May at 10.30am. The whole community is invited.

The Church Crown of Light raised a record sum of money for the Severn Hospice and Hope House.

Nellie has the night of her life

- and the audience had a good time too

A dramatic confrontation: (L to R) Tony Burgess, Dennis Sockett and John Neilson in PALS production of Nellie's Nightlights

Would poor Nellie be cast out onto the streets, fall prey to the grasping moneylender or become a sleeping partner, in every sense, for her scheming employer? Or would she become the face that lit thousand bedrooms?. In the end she was saved from all these fates by the arrival of the electric tramcar, but not before the audience enjoyed a rollicking comic melodrama presented with its usual panache by Players at Llansilin (PALS).

Too bad if you missed it, but there'll be another production next year and if you'd like to get involved acting, helping back stage or front of house just give Alison Beeston a call on 791262 – a good time is guaranteed.

Llansilin Community Shop continues to flourish

You may have noticed our new sign, displayed outside when we are open. This was purchased from the proceeds of fundraising in the village. In June the shop enters its fourth year of operation and with the help of donations received, we continue to develop the facilities for our customers.

We have just installed an additional counter, which provides us with extra display capacity, and regular customers have commented positively on the gradual improvements we have made. We are proud to be able to provide the village with a focal point, where people can meet and chat while doing a spot of shopping, and we are grateful to our team of volunteers without whom we could not function.

We are now stocking bakery items from Henllan Bakery. Locally O'r Rhosydd keeps us supplied with organic home baked produce which, alongside Jamie Ward Pork products, and our range of fruit, vegetables, chilled, frozen, grocery and household items means we can supply most of your needs. New customers are always welcome, come along and see what we have to offer.

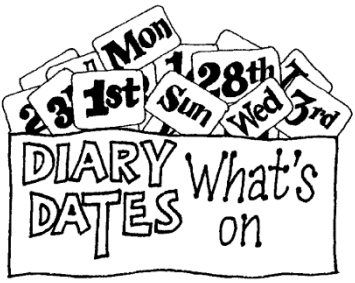

Opening times are: Tuesday 9.00am - 2.30pm Thursday 9.00am - 12.30pm

News from the Wynnstay

We are now serving pub grub!
We are also doing tea and coffee afternoons every Friday from 2 pm.
As the last quiz went well we have been asked to do another pub quiz, so we are going to do a monthly pub quiz.

The Funday will be on the 25 May and it will also feature a car boot sale. Stall holders are welcome so start rummaging in the garage or attic now. You can find out more on:
